Ragged Mercantile Limited was formed in 1999 to provide specialist construction chemicals to the East African market. Since then the company has established itself firmly in this market segment and has expanded its scope of supply to include products ranging from geotechnical fabrics to road marking systems.

Based on our many years of experience, we can place a team of experienced technicians at our clients' service to carry out site surveys, assist with the choice of products and carry out installations and maintenance.

We have successfully completed projects in:

- Highway maintenance
- Road construction
- Airport runway repair
- Industrial flooring repair and maintenance
- Landscape drainage
- Hygienic floor installation for institutions
- Waterproofing and dam lining

East Africa is currently experiencing a rapid expansion within the construction industry both in terms of projects undertaken and their complexity. With a view to supporting this trend Ragged Mercantile intend to offer the construction industry, both in Kenya and neighbouring countries, a broad range of cost-effective, affordable, quality products.

With a view to further enhancing our product range we intend to introduce innovative products such as seamless decorative flooring systems and biodegradable geotechnical fabrics for temporary road construction in environmentally sensitive areas.

Our aim is to make building easier.
